

Mosaic

laboratory furniture system

Celebrating  of Excellence
1993-2013

Protech

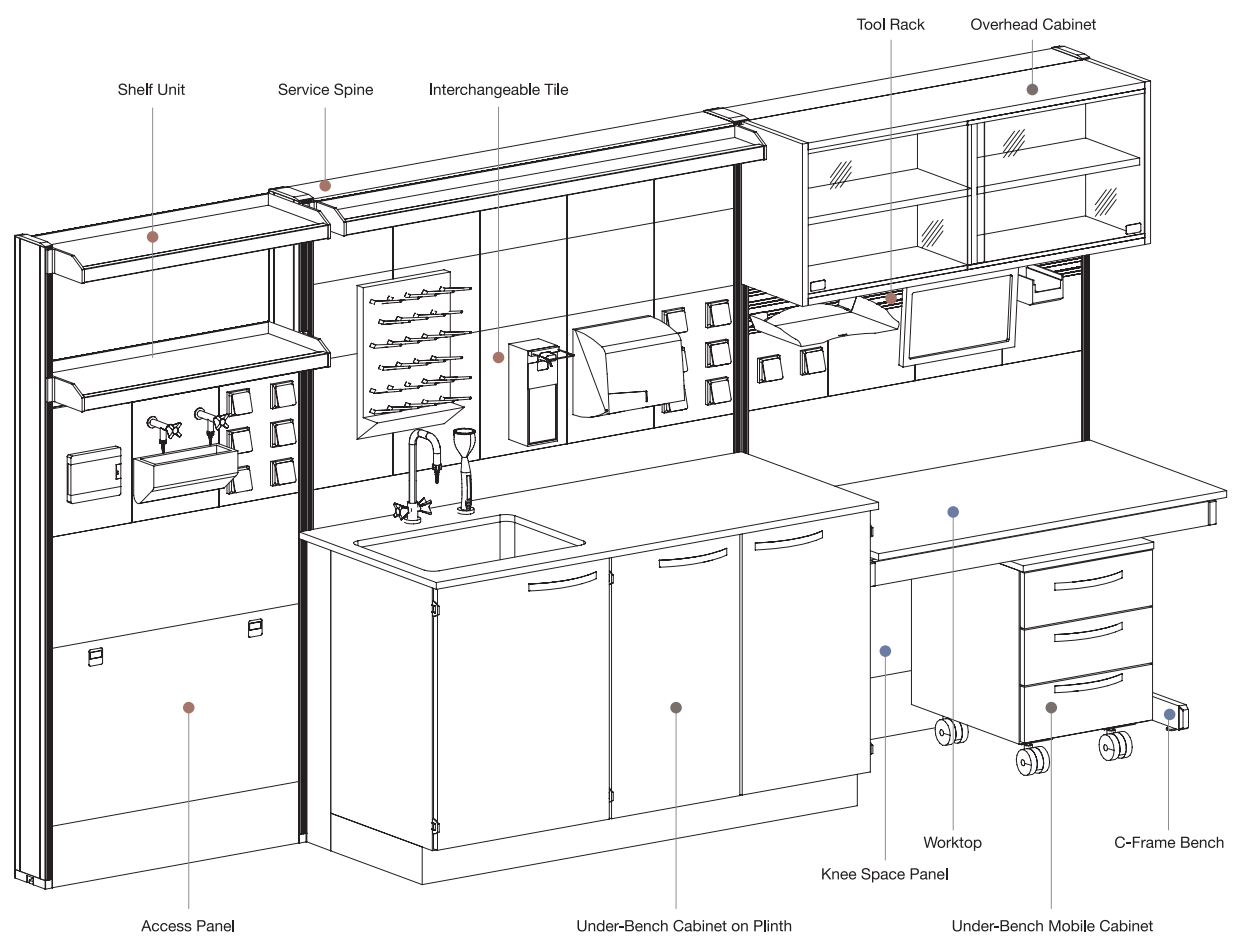

In today's business climate, you need to get the most out of every decision you make. And when it's time to invest in quality laboratory furniture, Mosaic gives you more for your money while giving laboratory users more of what they need to work efficiently and effectively.

Whether you are planning to set a laboratory for education, testing, quality control, or research, Protech can help you make the most of your laboratory with Mosaic. By bringing together numerous choices of service systems, benches, storages, fixtures, and accessories in one integrated laboratory furniture system, we have made it easy for you to create efficient, well-designed, and safe workplace. Mosaic is a flexible system that will respond to the changing needs of your laboratory.

Being in heart of the Middle East, communication, coordination, delivery, installation, and after-sale service will be done better and faster. With Protech, you get more, without paying for a lot of extras you don't need. And you won't have to compromise quality.

Our competent design engineers are experienced enough to provide assistance to plan your future laboratory taking into account your specific requirements as well as international standards. Contact our sales team to receive copy of Mosaic technical catalogue, and to help you in your next laboratory project.

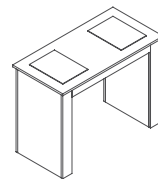

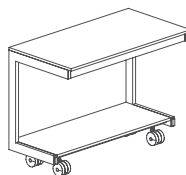

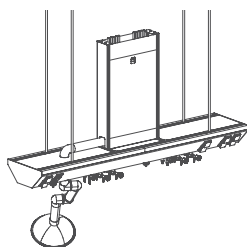

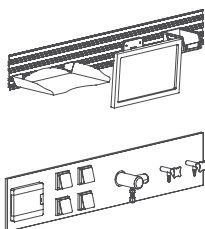

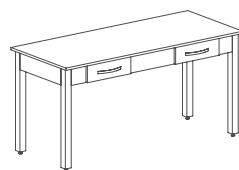

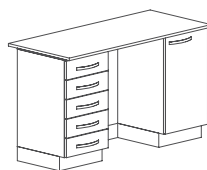

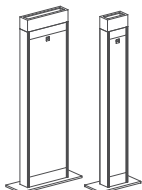

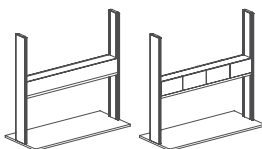

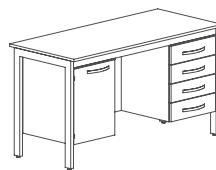

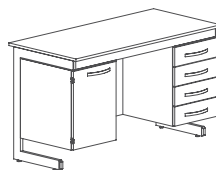

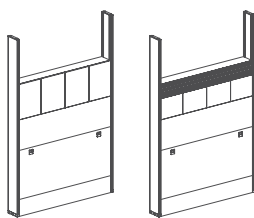

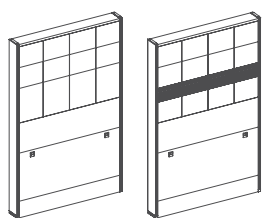

Service Systems

The ever-changing nature of laboratories requires flexible and functional furniture solutions that allow for alterations to electrical and mechanical services done comfortably and without major renovations. With Mosaic, maintenance and modifications to services are made with minimum downtime.

Benches

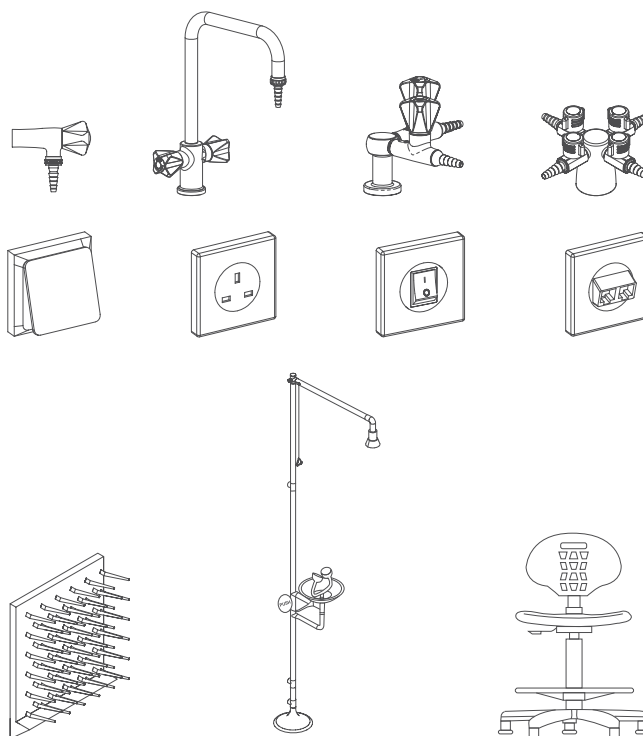

Mosaic's wide range of laboratory Bench Systems and Tables are functional, aesthetic, and long lasting. Whether the customer requires fixed, free standing, or mobile benches and tables, Mosaic provides a solution for every end user. Our laboratory benches and tables comply with the European Norm EN 13150:2001.

Fixtures and Complementary Items

To ensure entirely functional laboratory, Mosaic offers extensive range of durable, safe, and ergonomic fixtures and complimentary items that are carefully selected based on scientific research. These equipments are necessary to facilitate laboratory procedures and safety.

Benefits

- Suit most laboratory applications
- Maximize work space and productivity
- Simplify laboratory building planning
- Facilitate project site coordination
- Save installation time
- Make modifications and expansions easier
- Utilize sustainable materials
- Maximize customers' Return On Investment

